Restaurant guide created by Lia Olsborg and Lyndsay Calusine for use by the Boston science fiction conventions Arisia and Boskone. Art created by Catherine Wechsler 1/18
WELCOME TO THE BOSTON SEAPORT. LET’S EAT!

You’ve made it! Those of you new to the area will be forgiven for half expecting a tumbleweed to roll by as you parked in some far off surface lot. At first glance, the Seaport area doesn’t seem to offer much to tame your growling stomach, but take heart. There are many tasty provisions to be found in the hotel and just a short walking distance away. So drop your bags in the room, grab your badge at registration, and rest easy that there are plenty of alternate options to eating meals from the con suite.

Establishments in this guide are alphabetized within the neighborhoods that they are in: Chinatown, Seaport, and South Boston. Some areas of the city have a greater concentration of places to eat than others, and we encourage you to explore beyond what this guide may list. While our listings have expanded this year based on past feedback, this is merely a starting point for your culinary adventures.

While we make every effort to provide accurate information, the convention cannot guarantee the hours, offerings, or quality of any independent establishment. Phone numbers and websites are included with listings where available.

If you have specific question or concern regarding any of our listings, we suggest that you phone ahead.

GETTING AROUND BOSTON

Automobile
Frankly, we recommend walking or taking the subway or bus to get to food. Parking is often expensive and open meters can be hard to find, not to mention contending with traffic on the way to your destination.

Public Transit (MBTA Subway and Bus)
If you take the subway while you’re here, you’ll be on the Silver Line which connects to the airport and South Station. Subway fare is $2.75 ($2.25 with Charlie Card) per trip. Daily ($12) and weekly ($21.25) passes are also available. Children, aged 11 and under, ride on public transportation for free when accompanied by a paying adult.

Charlie cards can be obtained from MBTA sales offices in South Station, North Station, Downtown Crossing, Back Bay, and Harvard stations.

There are a number of bus lines that stop in the seaport area within walking distance to the Westin. They are: 4, 7, 11, 171, 448, 449, 459, and the Silver Line. Bus fare is $2.00 per trip ($1.70 with Charlie Card).

The T runs approximately 5:30a–12:30a Su–Th, and until 2a on F & Sa nights. There is no late night bus service for routes near the Westin.

Complete bus, subway, and commuter rail maps, schedules, and fare information are available online at www.mbta.com.

This eatery is located across the hall from Brew Cafe in the District Hall building. Like with Brew Cafe, you need to enter the building through the doors marked 75 Northern Ave. Gather will be on your left. As a new establishment it’s doing quite well with Yelp reviewers. It seems that their updated take on American cuisine has really been a hit, with dishes like roasted duck tacos as a starter, to veal shank & sage gnocchi as an entree, and pastry bread pudding as a dessert. They have some vegetarian friendly options, and will probably be flexible in leaving meat off of certain dishes, but it’s not something they focus on. They also have respectable wine, beer, and cocktail menus to browse over as well.

SOUTH BOSTON AREA

Location: While the whole South Boston area technically includes the Seaport area as well, these listings are located South of the Westin. This area is bordered by Summer St. to the North, L Street to the East, Columbia Road to the South, and Old Colony Ave, Dorchester Ave, and A Street to the West.

Food Culture: Much more casual neighborhood type places to choose from here. Plenty of greasy fast food for take out and delivery, as well as a nice selection of higher quality restaurants that won’t break the bank.

Unofficial Hours: Most restaurants are lunch and dinner places with brunch on the weekends. Bars stay open till 1am along with most fast food delivery places. There are a few specialty and coffee shops in the area that will be happy to provide you with a quick snack or breakfast on the run.

15. Doughboy Donuts and Deli ...... 220 Dorchester St. | 617.269.8741
A staple donut shop in Southie. Nothing like your mass produced DD fare, but that can be good or bad if you have a favorite from that sort of place. They have other pastries as well as some pizzas. It can be quite crowded in the morning so be prepared. Also be aware that they have boxes, so if you’re going to get more than a few donuts with goopy glaze, ask for one so it won’t end up all over the inside of the bag that they will give you instead. Rumor (Yelp) has it that they fry up a number of batches at night, so if you want a that fresh out of the fryer, gooey glazed ring of dough, you’ll want to head by after 9 or 10pm.
